

Logline:

For the kids of a neighborhood Geocache Treasure Adventure, the “family building exercise” becomes an all-out quest for a real life treasure buried on Mackinac Island since the War of 1812.

Synopsis:

The discovery of an ancient journal hidden in an antique writing desk leads young, stouthearted J.J. HANKS and his swashbuckling friends on a quest to Mackinac Island in search for buried treasure. It seems his great-great-great-grandfather Porter Hanks, a disgraced Lieutenant in the American military, fell upon the treasure during a siege by British forces during the War of 1812. A band of orphan grave robbers, destined to become his surrogate family, witnessed the treasure being buried in the island cemetery by British soldiers and reclaimed it for themselves. Lieutenant Hanks hid the lion’s share of the treasure on the island in hopes that one day his only son would come searching for the truth about his father’s fate. But for two hundred years the journal and an accompanying map remained secret... until now. J.J. and his friends must battle the elements, ancient booby traps and an evil adversary in their pursuit for fortune and glory.

www.GrossBros.com

Co-Writers: Duane Lloyd Gross & Raymond Lloyd Gross

Genre: Action/Adventure

Pages: 120

Gross Brother’s Productions

561-543-4174

duane@grossbros.com

ray@grossbros.com

grossbros
PRODUCTIONS